If you hold a bachelor degree in common sense and satire is your first language, you will enjoy the read. The Poetician is a cheeky, colloquial, social, in the face satire about the lives we live in contemporary times. Every poetry is a story; unification of past with present and amalgamation of a skeptical future. The title 'Practical vs Theory' makes you realize what a fool this education system had made out of you. 'Cheekhta-Chillata Shehar' is a blunt satire on an un-environmentally friendly city. 'Foodie-Mere ped ki dastaan' will leave you with a humorous aftertaste. 'Maryadapurshottam Mard' is a satirical take on the lives of the eldest sons in the Indian family. 'Hindi medium ka chatra' is a satire on the colonial language. 'Manto' and 'Munshi ji' are odes to the legends. 'Best friends forever' deals with the dark world of teenage issues and friendship. 'Jahaalat' translates the crassness of modern young society. 'Parchaiyan' is my arrogant, angry battle with life. 'Bachche Zinda hain' is a raw, compelling, naked truth about how we treat the young citizens of this country. I would say just read and then decide if you found yourself or not.

This book argues for an intersectional approach to understanding janana life worlds and situates janana subjectivity in dialogue with social, cultural, linguistic, and legal happenings. In engaging with the full complexity of janana identities and experience, Ila Nagar calls for a reassessment of gender categories and a new understanding of power and sexuality amidst emerging Indian modernities. Derived from ethnographic research conducted over a period of twelve years, this book also reflects on the interaction between social actors and researchers, and critically examines the use of ethnography as a method in sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology. It will be of interest to scholars from Anthropology, Asian Studies, Gender & Sexuality Studies, and Linguistics.

behan ko: Chaste Wives and Prostitute Sisters Anuja Agrawal, 2020-11-29 This book is an anthropological study of the unusual coincidence of prostitution and patriarchy among an extremely marginalized group in north India, the Bedias, who are also a de-notified community. It is the first detailed account of the implications of a systematic practice of familial prostitution on the kinship structures and marriage practices of a community. This starkly manifests among the Bedias in the clear separation between sisters and daughters who engage in prostitution and wives and daughters-in-law who do not. The Bedias exemplify a situation in which prostitution of young unmarried women is the mainstay of the familial economy of an entire social group. Tracing the recent origins of the practice in the community, the author goes on to explore the manner in which this familial economy manifests itself in the lives of individual women and the kind of family groupings it produces. She then examines the repercussion this economy has on the lives of Bedia men, how the problem of their marriage is resolved, and how the Bedia wives become repositories of female purity which otherwise stands jeopardized by Bedia sisters engaged in prostitution.
